CLARENCE PAPPAS MURDERED IN JAMES BAY

Cafe Proprietor Shot Following Heated Dispute

Man, Believed to Be Greek, Sought by Police as Murderer—Victim Struck Three Times by Bullets as Pistol Blazes in Early Morning Battle

CLARENCE Pappas, well-known business man, 253 Montreal Street, was murdered as he was about to enter his house shortly before 3 o'clock this morning, by a fellow Greek who had ridden with him from the Liberty Cafe, Yates Street, of which Pappas was principal owner.

According to information given to the police, Pappas and his assassin, who it is said, was associated in business matters with the restaurateur, met in the cafe and had an argument. They left together about 2:30 a.m. in a taxicab, driven by J. P. White.

When the car stopped, Pappas got out and was about to enter his home when the other man sprang from the car, whipped out a pistol and sent three bullets crashing into the victim's back. The killer fled.

DRIVER CALLS POLICE
The taxicab driver called police and the wounded man was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where he died a few moments later.

Police started an intensive searching of the district for the murderer, who is described as a man about fifty, well dressed and wearing a grey shirt without a collar.

The taxicab driver who witnessed the shooting was not able to give police any details of the argument in the car, which was conducted in Greek.

Following the shooting there was a call to police headquarters from Pappas' home for protection, it being feared that the killer might return.

Detective Inspector McLellan arrived shortly after the man was shot and took personal charge of the case, being assisted by Detectives Woodman and Jarvis.

Uniformed officers were detailed to scour the waterfront, and the gunman ran in the direction of the Outer Wharves.

TWO BROTHERS SURVIVE
Clarence Pappas is survived by two brothers, Tony, who is employed at the Liberty Cafe, and Harry, who is in business at Seattle. He had been in business in Victoria in partnership with Peter Karras in the candy and rate business for the past twelve years.

The dead man was regarded as a leader among the Greeks of Vancouver Island. He was generally quiet in demeanor, and was highly regarded by his friends.

CANADIAN GIRL BECOMES STAR

Rosina Lawrence Given Six Year Contract at Steadily Rising Salary

LOS ANGELES, April 30 (AP).—At the same film studio where her father is carpenter, a twenty-year-old Canadian girl today became a star.

She is Regina Lawrence, formerly of Ottawa, Ont., whose long-term contract with the Fox Film Corporation today was approved by Superior Judge Marshall McComb. Her father is George F. Lawrence, a native of England.

The document called for Miss Lawrence to receive a salary graduating from $55 a week to $700 a week over a period of six years. Following her graduation from a school in Boston, Mass., she came to Hollywood, where she gained some experience as a dancer in pictures. Her only acting role was the ingenue lead in the picture, "Ten Dollar Raiser."

ARE ENCOURAGED BY OIL SHOWING

Fluid Hurdled Over Defrict of Columbia Test in Flathead Section of B.C.

VANCOUVER, April 30 (CP).—Officials of Columbia Oils, Ltd., drilling in the Flathead section of Southeastern British Columbia, stated tonight that their well there is now down to 3,130 feet and that at 3,140 feet a considerable increase in gas with "a lot of oil with it," had been encountered.

"This is not commercial production," it was stated, though indications were encouraging.

There was enough pressure to shoot oil and drilling fluid fifty feet away from the side of the derrick.

Drilling, which was started July 1, 1933, will be continued, officials stated.

Capitol Building Destroyed

Blazing furiously, the historic Oregon State Capitol at Salem is pictured at the height of the spectacular blaze which destroyed not only the magnificent structure but also the life of a man. Shortly after the photo was taken, the fire raged on, and the capitol crashed through. One life was lost in the fire.

Rash Disclosures Sharply Rebuked By U.S. President

White House and War Department Quickly Disavow Connection of Private Testimony by Army Officers With Policy of Government—Permanent Peace Secure on Canadian Border

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP).—An unprecedented threat by President Roosevelt to censor any military disclosures that might be made by army officers, was sharply rebuked by a disclosure of "emergency" war plans by a member of the House of Representatives.

In quick succession, statements were shot out from the White House and War Department disavowing any connection with the testimony of army officers, proposing a secret Canadian border air base and preparations to seize certain British and French islands, reported in the "policy" of the Government.

THREATENED CENSORSHIP
Bluntly, Mr. Roosevelt told the House military committee that if confidential testimony given behind locked doors was to be printed as a public document, "I shall find it necessary as commander-in-chief of the army and navy to require that the future such testimony be given only after approval by me."

In short, crisp sentences, the President wrote Chairman McNair that assertions by high officials "do not represent the policy of the Administration or of the commander-in-chief."

In a matter of hours, Secretary Dern advised the White House that the views given by army officers "were individual and had not been submitted to either the chief of staff or the secretary of War."

Then swiftly, Brig. Gen. F. M. Andrews, chief of the general headquarters force and one of those contributing the statements which were rebuked internationally, added:

Prince Has Big Role in Celebration

LONDON, April 30 (CP).—The Prince of Wales will play a major role in the Jubilee celebrations marking the twenty-fifth reign of his father.

That was emphasized today with the appearance of the official Jubilee programme of which the first page was devoted to an appeal from the Prince signed "Edward" for support of the "King George Jubilee Trust."

Mayor Starts Fund For Testimonial to Basketball Players

FOR the purpose of presenting a suitable testimonial to the Blue Ribbon basketball team in recognition of their feat in winning the Canadian championship, Mayor David Leeming is sponsoring a fund to which the public may contribute. He is doing so at the request of a number of citizens who have expressed a wish to donate sums toward such a fund.

It is planned to give each player on the team some memento of the occasion. Contributions may be sent to the Mayor, or left with his secretary.

PREMIERS IN CONFERENCE

Heads of Self-Governing Dominions Given Account Of European Talks

LONDON, April 30 (CP).—An account of their conferences and conversations with European statesmen was given to Prime Minister R. B. Bennett and other heads of self-governing Dominions by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and Sir John Simon, Secretary of the Foreign Office, at an informal meeting in the Commons this afternoon.

A discussion followed the meeting, which occupied an hour and a half, after which a communiqué was issued. The communiqué said:

THE COMMUNIQUE
The Prime Minister entertained at tea the Prime Ministers of Canada, Australia and South Africa. The Prime Minister of New Zealand was unable to be present as he had not arrived in England. Several colleagues of the Prime Minister were also absent.

An opportunity was taken to give an informal account of the present international situation, of the progress of the work of the League of Nations, and of the work of the League of Nations, and of the work of the League of Nations.

GUNMEN INVADE COUNTRY CLUB

Fourteen Members of Westward Ho Robbed of $1,000 By Five Bandits

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP).—Fourteen members of the Westward Ho Country Club, which is located in the suburb of Melrose Park, were robbed of $1,000 by five masked gunmen who invaded a meeting of the club's board of directors and escaped with the loot.

The robbery victims were seated in the rear of the club's dining hall, which is located in a large, modern building, when the robbers burst in. The leader armed with a machinegun, ordered the group to lie on the floor.

Smith, the leader, was armed with a machinegun, and ordered the group to lie on the floor. The robbers then searched the members and found the money.

FOLLOWED BY GUNMAN
He was admitted to the building, which was locked as a precaution against robbers. The woman loved him in. The leader of the group ordered the directors of the club to get down on the floor.

All complied except O. H. Gough, general manager of the club, who said after the robbery that he thought it was all a joke. One of the gunmen threatened to kill him unless he obeyed their order.

AUTO INDUSTRY STRIKE SPREADS

DETROIT, April 30 (AP).—The auto strike in the Toledo plant of the Chevrolet Motor Company spread today to the General Motors Corporation, which is a subsidiary of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

Workers in the Chevrolet plant at Cincinnati struck in response to an appeal from the Toledo local of the United Automobile Workers of America, an American Federation of Labor organization for support.

Both plants suspended operations. General Motors officials here said that the Fisher Body plant at Cleveland will close down indefinitely as midnight. The local's general manager announced that approximately 100,000 men are involved.

PENITENTIARY AUTHORITIES VINDICATED

Jury Finds Convict Slain by Guard in Attempt to Save Man's Life

DETAILS OF PRISON RIOT ARE DESCRIBED

STONY MOUNTAIN, Man. April 30 (CP).—Vindication of prison authorities in the slaying of George Bailey Forsythe, a convict, was given today by a coroner's jury investigating the fatal shooting in the turbulent riot in Stony Mountain Penitentiary on Saturday.

For seven hours last night and early today the jury of farmers and townsmen heard the details of the violence, led by Forsythe and other convicts, one of them a Florida chain-gang fugitive, who was slightly wounded by a bullet that ricocheted from a barrier.

New Member Joins Fascist Family

A new member is added to the Fascist family that already includes the Brownshirts of Germany, the Blackshirts of Italy and the Silvershirts of the United States. Above are shown the Greenshirts of Brazil. Instead of calling themselves Nazis or Fascists, they have taken the name of Integralists. There are several telltale links, however. Notice the salute here that they are giving their leader, Plinio Salgado. He is the shorter man with the mustache, in the centre. He claims the backing of 200,000 armed militiamen.

he knew there were about twenty knives and meat cleavers in the kitchen.

FIRES AT LEGS

Drysdale fired his first shot to cripple a convict taking a knife from the arm projecting from the window. The bullet pierced the wall and wounded Ercheeson in the leg. Watching the whole melee, Drysdale saw a convict go to attack Hill with a knife. He fired at the convict's legs but the bullet entered his groin. Forsythe, the convicted, died an hour later. Gas bombs were hurled and Drysdale quit shooting. "I shot because I felt the guard's life was in danger," said Drysdale. "I remembered he was a married man with a family." Questioned by Coroner Dr. A. N. McLeod if he was satisfied Forsythe was attempting the life of the guard, Drysdale said he believed he was satisfied. "If those knives hadn't been handed out the kitchen window by convicts in the kitchen, Forsythe went to attack him, he said, but was told by a bullet before reaching him. Forsythe had a knife in his hand, he said. Meanwhile gas bombs were hurled into the mob of fifty convicts in the kitchen, forcing them out. Shortly afterward order was restored and the convicts returned to their cells.

THREATENED BY CONVICTS

George Tulloch, a guard who told how Ercheeson and another convict, Somers, called a gang from the stone shed, said Ercheeson threatened guards. "We'll kill a guard for every one of us that is hurt," Tulloch quoted Ercheeson as saying.

Hill, the guard whose life was endangered, witnessed the coats containing knives being handed out the kitchen window by convicts in the kitchen. Forsythe went to attack him, he said, but was told by a bullet before reaching him. Forsythe had a knife in his hand, he said. Meanwhile gas bombs were hurled into the mob of fifty convicts in the kitchen, forcing them out. Shortly afterward order was restored and the convicts returned to their cells.

Two Speakers Address Club

Mrs. Dorothy Spurr and James H. Beatty Give Valuable Information to Members

The Commercial Club of Victoria High School held its meeting in the Y.W.C.A. Monday night, with two interesting speakers, from whom the members of the club obtained much valuable information.

Mrs. Dorothy Spurr outlined the duties of a secretary in the City Service, and intimated that persons seeking the higher positions should begin as clerks and stenographers in order to secure the necessary ground work for the greater office. She advised a start in a small general office. The experience in small offices proved useful in later employment.

BUSINESS METHODS

Mrs. Spurr outlined the necessities of a well equipped business office and some of the things that were required for the assistance of a private secretary. She mentioned as the two most important accomplishments for secretaries, good spelling and the ability to reconstruct sentences and if possible, to learn another language. The private secretary and the general office assistant must be prepared always to make sacrifices in the interests of the employer. Loyalty, of course, was one of the main requirements of a secretary.

ON SALESMANSHIP

J. H. Beatty spoke on the subject "Personality a Factor in Salesmanship," in which he stressed the necessity for salesmen to cultivate confidence in themselves and to create confidence with the parties with whom they were dealing. The need of character reading and the ability to know different types was mentioned as an attribute of the salesmanship. Both addresses were interesting and educational to the members of the club, who expressed their thanks in applause. Miss Olive Lynn presided. The next meeting was announced for May 13 at the Y.W.C.A.

Fine Programme To Be Given on Radio Tonight

Photographic Survey Of Glacial Region in Yukon Accomplished

Bradford Washburn Sends Report to National Geographic Society on Wilderness of Peaks and Glaciers Near Canada-Alaska Boundary

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 30.—The first report from Bradford Washburn, leader of the National Geographic Society's Yukon Expedition, since he joined his party by plane nearly a month ago, in a wilderness of peaks and glaciers near the Canada-Alaska boundary, has been received at the Washington, D.C., headquarters of the society.

The report announces the successful completion of the last of the series of aerial surveys over the region. This magnificent mountain country is one of the last unexplored areas in North America.

Mr. Washburn's photographic work was held up by continued storms. At one time the wind was so strong that when his plane landed at an altitude of nearly 5,000 feet, it stopped moving at fifty feet. Several times, photography was impossible despite perfect weather, on account of extreme temperatures.

NETWORK OF PHOTOGRAPHS

In the most recent flight, lasting four hours, Mr. Washburn and his pilot flew over the whole length of the Hubbard Glacier, which they have found to be nearly twice as long as was supposed, then around Mount Logan, over to Mount St. Elias and about Mount Lucania—all more than 17,000 feet high. Perfect weather prevailed, and they succeeded in making a comprehensive network of oblique photographs over a mass of uncharted territory.

The flight was made from the expedition's base camp east of Mount Hubbard. Mr. Washburn and his party, who have already spent over fifty days on the ice, report a perfect health record despite half a dozen big blizzards in the last three weeks. The expedition consists of Mr. Washburn, Cambridge, Mass.; Charles H. Bates, of Philadelphia; Adams Carter, of Boston; a Harvard undergraduate, Harpers, and a graduate, J. P. H. Smith, and member of the Hubbard Glacier Club, August Taylor, "outstanding" guide and snow expert of Alaska, who has traversed many of the territory's little-known areas and climbed a number of its high peaks, and Otto Dalbey, of Seattle, an experienced skier and climber.

COMFORTABLE ON GLACIER

Their camp on a glacier is comfortable, and a small plywood hut, six feet by six feet provides a warm shelter for the work of computing surveys and drawing maps. Mr. Washburn reported. Now that the aerial surveys are completed, most of the expedition's work in the future will consist of mapping and ground work.

In making the ground survey a novel method is used. A team of six dogs, hitched to a rope, pulls men and instruments over the glaciers, enabling them to cover as much as twenty-five miles in a single day. The dogs were flown in by plane from an Indian settlement at the south end of Kluane Lake.

The remaining survey work by the expedition will be done from the surface. While ground survey has been pushed rapidly from the Alsek River towards Mount Hubbard, and only twenty miles remain to be mapped before the international boundary south of Mount Seattle is reached.

Winnipeg Favours Daylight Saving

WINNIPEG, April 30 (CP).—Proposed Dominion-wide observance of daylight saving time were endorsed at a meeting of the council of the Winnipeg Board of Trade here, which urged that steps be taken to bring the question before Parliament.

RECOLLECTS EARLY DAYS ON SURVEY

Charles A. E. Shaw Was Member of Railway Planning Party in 1871

VIVIDLY DESCRIBES HISTORIC INCIDENTS

VANCOUVER, April 30 (CP).—Charles A. E. Shaw, veteran member of the party which did the first surveying for the Canadian Transcontinental Railway, was here today on his way from Keremeos, B.C., to visit his brother, who is ill in Victoria.

Mr. Shaw, in an interview, vividly described incidents that occurred when he was working with William Murdoch on this large survey project.

They began their journey westward in November, 1871, after much delay in Ottawa, and were "shipwrecked" on Lake Superior during a howling blizzard. Some of them reached shore safely, but the rest were drowned.

STARTED FOR PORT ARTHUR

"Murdoch was determined to get his party on the job that winter, so we made our way overland to Duluth," he said. "There were forty tons tied up there and he offered as much as $2,500 for one of them to take us to what they now call Port Arthur. That wouldn't accept, so he bought a twenty-five-foot boat. We started on December 10, rowing and sailing. We sailed and sailed that boat to our destination."

Each night they beached the boat and it was so cold half of them stayed up to keep the fire going while the other half slept. They reached Port Arthur, then Prince Arthur's Landing, on January 9, a month less one day, from their start.

"We worked westward all that winter, hauling our supplies in by dog team. Our rations were four beans and Chicago mess pork. 'Mess pork' was noted for its inches of fat and minimum of lean."

STRICKEN WITH SURVEY

They went back the next winter and their rations produced survey. The first thaw came in April and they trekked back three hundred miles, hauling some of the men on sleds.

Mr. Shaw tells many stories about the famous Major Rogers who found the pass through the Selkirk for the Canadian Pacific Railway.

In 1911 Mr. Shaw put in the Dawson irrigation system near Keremeos and when the war broke out he went to Vernon to instruct engineer officers. He tried hard to enlist, but was told he was too old and was sent to take charge of the irrigation camp at Morrissey, in the Crow's Nest.

Mrs. M. Dand of Nanaimo Passes

NANAIMO, April 30. Mrs. Mabel Dand, sixty-nine, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. Harris here today, after an extended illness. She had lived in this district since 1887. She leaves five daughters, Mrs. B. Cawthorne, Mrs. W. E. Weeks and Mrs. T. Harris, Nanaimo; Mrs. J. Nash, Kelowna; and Miss Anne Dand, Victoria; also two sons, Thomas and John, Nanaimo.

Tax Prepayments To End of April Show Steady Gain

PREPAYMENT of taxes is rapidly approaching the $450,000 mark, figures up to the end of April disclosed yesterday at the City Hall.

Up to late yesterday afternoon a total of $434,814 had been collected under the pre-paid scheme. This will earn approximately $14,500 in interest for those paying in advance. The collections are $61,800 more than for the same period last year.

ARTHUR GODFREY TAKEN BY DEATH

Founder of Vernon Rotary Club Passes Away—Was Well Known in Victoria

Arthur Benson Godfrey, vice-president and one of the founders of the Vernon Rotary Club and a resident of that city for twelve years, died there on Easter morning. It was learned here yesterday. Mr. Godfrey had been in ill-health for three years, but the day before his death he had been seen walking through Vernon streets.

He was born in Nelson, Man. As a young man, he was active in athletic and in 1911 was manager when the Vernon team won the B.C. championship. He was a member of the Vernon Athletic Club's hockey team, which won the B.C. championship. Later Mr. Godfrey was secretary of the two district Y.M.C.A. expeditionary forces in Siberia, and covered some 2,800 miles in the course of his duties.

Godfrey, Henry R. Godfrey, and Mr. Godfrey was married in 1923 R. Godfrey, all of Vancouver.

Reports New Rapid Test for Detection Of Internal Cancer

American College of Physicians Told of Method Involving Injection Under Skin—Shape of Blister Tells the Story

PHILADELPHIA, April 30 (AP).—A new ten-minute test for hidden, internal cancer in human beings was reported to the American College of Physicians today by Benjamin Gruskin, of Temple University.

He said it worked successfully in pods show not only the existence of the cancer, but the age of the growth. Few pseudopods denote an early stage; more of the "buds" indicate a greater development.

Gruskin uses a hypodermic under the skin. It may be given in the arm, regardless of the location of the cancer. It is an extract from the connective tissues of embryos of animals.

Within ten minutes, he said, this hypodermic raises a skin blister about the size of a finger nail. If the blister is round, the familiar shape of all blisters, there is no cancer.

But if the patient has an unknown cancer, the blister forms at the edges of the blister. Pseudopods means "false feet" and describes an extension of the edge of the blister shaped like a foot.

Mr. Gruskin said these pseudopods had entered the Dominion and Provincial contests which he said, indicated the general interest being shown in the work of the association.

Captain Clarke will remain on Vancouver Island for several days, visiting various centres and conducting inspections, before returning East.

Returning to Victoria yesterday after moving to San Francisco, during which time he contacted publicity and tourist officials all along the Coast, George L. Warren, public relations commissioner, declared Vancouver Island would have a record tourist season this summer, provided threatening labor troubles do not develop.

At the semi-annual meeting of the Oregon Coast Highway Association, attended by 500 persons interested in tourist trade, Mr. Warren was the chief speaker.

Mr. Warren reported yesterday that the five bridges on the Oregon Highway are being rushed to completion. Two will be ready this year, the other three by next year.

He added that Oregon had decided to remove the tolls and make the bridges free, which in Mr. Warren's opinion would prove advantageous to Victoria as this city is listed, as the terminus of Highway No. 101, at the result of representation by Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

JOINT MEETING TO BE CALLED

Council and School Board Representatives to Consider Annual Budget

A joint conference of the special estimates committee, the City Council with the chairman of the School Board, and chairman of the building and grounds committee, will meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, to consider the annual budget, which will be held next Friday.

Little headway was made yesterday by the committee in so far as budget reductions were concerned. The committee is still undecided over the $14,000 vote for asphalt work, and it is problematical as to whether this work will be done.

A check-up of the progress made by the committee disclosed that approximately $30,000 still has to be taken from the budget before a forty-one mill rate can be established. Starting out with $55,000 to reduce, the committee so far has made economies amounting to $25,000.

WORKING FOR BIG SHOW HERE SOON

Annual Y.M.C.A. Circus to Be Held at Horse Show Building On May 10 and 11

All the fun of the circus will be offered to Victorians on May 10 and 11, when the annual Y.M.C.A. circus is held at the Horse Show Building at the Willows.

The gymnasium of the Y.M.C.A. will be the scene of activity for the next two weeks as various boys' classes go into rehearsal for their part in the show.

One of the features of the circus this year will be an organized drill by more than 100 boys, each carrying a large wand with the end decorated with multi-colored streamers. Other acts include apparatus work, pyramiding and general display work.

Workouts for the week started Monday with the junior school and boys practicing.

Other rehearsals this week include: Today, 4 p.m., junior leaders; Thursday, 3:45 p.m., preps; 4:15 p.m., junior school; Friday, 4:15 p.m., pyramid teams; 7 p.m., senior leaders' corps; Saturday, 9:30 a.m., preps; 10:30 a.m., junior leaders' corps.

SUSSEX FELLOWSHIP BEING CONSIDERED

Formation of a Sussex Fellowship here along lines of those already established in Vancouver, Edmonton and Moose Jaw, was considered at a tea recently held by Mrs. Forrest Leeder in her home on Rockland Avenue. It was announced yesterday.

It was decided to hold in the near future, a basket picnic, to which it is hoped many former residents of the county and others interested will be attracted.

Full particulars will gladly be given by Mrs. Leeder, R.4418, H. P. Hope, Tudor Road, E.4448, or C. V. Milton, Cranleigh House School, E.8214.

Lands Nose-On in Mud

Stephen Rosetta, twenty-three, a student pilot, was unhurt recently when his motor quit on him in mid-air, and he was forced to land nose-on, in the mud flats near East Boston, Mass. The plane is shown in the process of being righted after the accident.

He was born in Devonshire, England, and came to Sooke in 1929, having spent about ten years before moving to Victoria, where she had since resided. She is survived by her husband and four children, Mrs. W. Wyllie Johnston, of Vancouver; Sydney Child, Victoria; R. F. Child, Oliver, B.C.; and Miss Mabel F. Child, Victoria. The funeral will be private, and it is requested that no flowers be sent.

Officials of City Charged

Magistrate to Decide on Friday Whether By-Law Has Been Violated

The city engineer, the plumbing inspector of the city and a plumber, H. Roekamp, were charged yesterday in the city police court with having violated the city by-law governing the making of plumbing connections with the city sewers. The information was laid by the Sanitary Heating & Ventilation Association, which was represented in court by P. J. Sinnott.

H. A. Maclean, K.C., for the defendants, asked for an adjournment of the cases until next Friday, at the same time setting out that he was at a loss to know what the charges were against the defendants. The by-law, said Mr. Maclean, contained seventy-two sections. He asked what section or sections had been violated and felt that an adjournment should be taken until the particulars were furnished.

TO GIVE PARTICULARS

Magistrate Jay said that seemed a reasonable request, but Mr. Sinnott argued that it was not necessary to give particulars beyond what the information set out.

In the case against Mr. Roekamp, Mr. Sinnott said that the charge was that the accused had not the necessary licence.

An adjournment was taken until Friday, when particulars are to be forthcoming. There are two charges covering two different jobs, under which alleged violations are set forth against H. Roekamp, the plumber; G. M. Irwin, the city engineer, and John A. Birnie, the city plumbing inspector.

PROSPECTING COURSE OVER

Record Year of Gold Production Expected in B.C., Officials State

With approximately two thousand attending classes held in a number of centres of the province, provincial instructional courses on elementary geology and prospecting have now drawn to a close for the year. It was stated yesterday at the British Columbia Mines Department.

District mining engineers will take the field soon for their periodic examination of mineral districts.

INTEREST SHOWN

This year exceptional interest was shown in the courses, where a series of prepared lectures in printed form were given, together with practical demonstrations of mining and mining methods wherever possible. As a result, it is expected an increased number of prospectors will take the field as soon as river waters subside and snow is cleared from northern areas of the province.

Both in lode and placer operations, the department is looking for a record year of gold production in 1935, it was stated.

Don't be "caught short" on coverage!

... SWP gives GREATER COVERAGE!

IN order to secure proper coverage, paint must be made from the proper ingredients; and the process of making counts for a lot, too.

If you have painting to do you will find it sound economy to purchase Sherwin-Williams—it is by far the best value in the long run.

Think of it this way. You are not buying just a can of paint: You are buying protection for your property—protection against the ravages of the sun, the rain and winter storms. You are buying also beauty; fine appearance, durability and economy. SWP gives you all these; and actually costs less than so called "cheap" paint because it covers much more surface, holds its colour better, and lasts two to five-times as long.

"THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR QUALITY"

World Silver Prices Continue Below Rate Set by U.S. Treasury

Commentators See Implications Involving British Pound and Indian Rupee, if Values Rise Much Above Dollar Mark—Pact May Be Threatened

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP).—Closely watching shifting monetary developments, the Treasury tonight found world silver prices far enough below its own offer for domestic metal to permit another overnight stand at the present level.

With the Government paying 75¢ an ounce for the product of United States mines, prices on the commercial markets reached a turning point in their short-lived recession, but hung steadily below 75 and 76 cents an ounce.

Meanwhile, commentators in Wall Street and at the capital saw implications involving the British pound and a possible threat to the London-silver agreement in a price increase to $1.20, the Treasury's avowed objective.

These implications lay in the effect of such an increase upon the rupee, India's currency unit, and through it upon the pound, to which the rupee is tied firmly by official exchange control. Some forecast that the developments would bring the British stabilization fund into play.

BULLION VALUE POINT.—If silver reaches $1.00, the calculations run, it then will be profitable to melt rupees down for their bullion value. Should the British seek to depreciate the pound further in relation to the dollar, the melting point for the rupee would drop correspondingly lower.

Thus, it was argued, any British desire to improve their position in world markets by depreciation of the pound, may be checked by the possibility that such action would disrupt rupee coinage and create a chaotic situation in India.

Dean Quainton Gives Interesting Lecture on Work of Charles Dickens

Charles Dickens was portrayed, with his faults as well as his accomplishments, by Very Rev. Cecil S. Quainton, Dean of Columbia, in an interesting lecture on the work of the great novelist, given last night at the Memorial Hall here.

Charles Dickens had many critics in his day and has many in the present, but the Dean's lecture was not a criticism, but rather a presentation of the man, his genius and his ability to apply that genius to the betterment of conditions for the creatures for which he had a great love and a great sympathy.

His life, marked by unhappiness and reared in a great testis, was not a life of ease and fortune, but a life of struggle and adversity. The Dean's lecture was a well-known to his admirers of the present day, but there were, the Dean remarked, some of the minute things connected with his life that did not altogether coincide with the opinions of the earlier biographers.

The Dean gave full play to Dickens' efforts at reform, and the fact that his references to certain aspects of the plight of the poor and oppressed had, even in those times, brought down on his head the severest of criticism.

To those who characterized some of Dickens' books and his characters as "vulgar," the Dean reminded his audience that Dickens never made vice attractive, nor evil tolerable, although sentimental in his treatment of his characters, in so far as it was needed to portray the true side of the life by which his characters

How 3,000 Lost Lives in Formosa

A photograph taken in one of the smaller towns of the island of Formosa during a previous earthquake. A few days ago the Japan-owned island off the coast of China was visited by the worst earthquake in its history. More than three thousand persons have been killed and twelve thousand injured. Homes have been leveled, just as in this photograph.

They were surrounded. In other words, Dickens made England think—judging from the legend of the "Dickens" personal life, it would appear the novelist carried into his books some of his own emotions. The Dean was "in his opinion" very much in love with Mary Hogarth, his wife's sister, and that by his creation of "Little Nell," he simply recreated his Mary Hogarth, whose death was one of the greatest blows in the life of the novelist.

Following the Dean's lecture, Captain Wilfrid Ord gave a number of dramatic readings of extracts from the novels of Dickens, which were very entertaining. About two hundred attended the lecture, which was under the auspices of the Men's Guild of the Cathedral.

EXPLAINS NEW TOURIST BODY
Governing Council of Development Association Not New Financial Set-Up

In order to correct any misunderstanding that may have developed through the appointment of a governing council for the new tourist body, the Development Association of Victoria and Vancouver Island, and the possibility of it being directed locally, as a council to direct the financial affairs of the parent body, Mayor David Bennett points out that it is not the case.

The council was appointed by the delegates of eighteen mayors and representatives from communities all over the Island and will coordinate the work of the whole Island section. The fact that it is to have its first meeting at Nanaimo, the Mayor points out, has little significance other than a good gesture.

It is proposed to have the council meet at various centres from time to time to get away from any suggestion of sectionalism, as the movement was created in the first instance, to be of service to all communities.

With regard to finances, the governing council will not, in any way, be a spending body, as each community on the Island will have to make its own contribution to the carrying out of its own local programs. Greater Victoria and each of the other communities are distinct units in the general set-up for development, the Mayor stated.

Prof. King Gordon Misses Host From Ganges-Two Others Give Their Views

Prof. King Gordon, who was to have addressed a C.C.F. meeting in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium last evening, missed his host of connection at Ganges Harbor. More than 250 persons had gathered to hear him speak on an announced subject.

Don Smith, in taking the podium, assumed that as long as the roads, public utilities and factories were not operating in the interests of the people, the C.C.F. he stated, offered a complete Socialist system for Canada.

Alfred Caplan, who was to have addressed the C.C.F. meeting at Port Alberni, He claimed high-grade lumber was being shipped overseas, while mill workers were forced by their "loyalty" to live in shacks.

In Victoria, said Mr. Car-michael, "we need at least 2,000 new houses, because a home should be written off every thirty-three years. In the whole Dominion of Canada a new home is required out of every existing fifty. Under a system of socialized finance, the Federal Government would loan $2,000 to everybody needing a house, and this would be repayable within thirty-three years with interest of not over 5 per cent."

By giving work to the building trades and various industries, employment would be ended within a few months by this plan. I feel confident that this would be done if we had a C.C.F. Government at Ottawa," he stated.

"Mr. Macdonald has been committed to or discussed with higher authority and represents merely my views as an abstract political thought or reference."

"On Capitol Hill there was a fast shuffling of blades for the slip which publicized data given under pledges of secrecy." But there was no immediate disposition to shove the air base bill, which was the basis of the incident.

"We are going to pass the bill," was the comment of Representative Wilcox (D., Fla.), author of the measure to establish powerful defense air bases around the nation's borders.

"There is nothing offensive to anyone in this bill," Wilcox added. "He conceded 'a slip' in publication of the testimony, and said 'I suppose it was my fault. I arranged for the general to testify.'"

McSwain was out of the city but the military committee clerk said the public printer should have omitted from the printed hearings testimony given in secret.

CHARGES CAMOUFLAGED
The statements disavowed by Mr. Roosevelt and Secretary Dern were made by Andrews and Brig. Gen. Charles E. Kilbourne, former head of the army war plans division and now on duty in Manila. Kilbourne said the Wilcox measure, as phrased by the War Department, contained a "camouflaged" provision for putting an air base on the Canadian frontier. Andrews told the committee the nation "must be prepared to seize" nearby French and British islands in event of an "emergency."

Canadian officials in Ottawa had no comment on the President's letter. But they said it in no way affected their request for the full transcript of Kilbourne's remarks.

"This Government," Mr. Roosevelt wrote the committee, "does not in any of its plans or policies create a possibility of a change in the friendly relationship between the United States and any foreign country."

I call your special attention to the fact that this Government not only accepts as an accomplished fact the permanent peace conditions cemented by many generations of friendship between the Canadian and American people, but expects to live up to, not only the letter, but the spirit of our treaties relating to the permanent disarmament of our 3,000 miles of common boundary."

One of the sufferers, Peter Carson, collapsed on the street. The others were picked up at various downtown addresses. They are Robert Sehl, Harry Hughes, William McAdam, George Gustafson, Clifford Johnson, George E. Webb, and one other who was picked up early this morning and whose name is not immediately available.

TO INQUIRE INTO AUTOS

Tariff Board of Canada Will Meet at Vancouver May 20 on Western Appeal

Sittings of the Tariff Board of Canada in Western Canada were announced yesterday over the signature of Hon. G. H. Steward, K.C., chairman of the board. At Vancouver, on May 20, the board will inquire into the operation of customs and excise in their bearing on the automotive industry in Canada, one of the leading industries in the last session of the Provincial Legislature.

In the Provincial Legislature it was argued by Byron Johnson, M.P., and others that British Columbia was suffering from an adverse balance of trade with the rest of Canada. In witness of this it was stated that the Columbia citizens paid $25,000,000 more than the manufactured price when they bought $100,000,000 worth of automobiles.

TERMS OF INQUIRY
On March 13 last, Reference 91, the automotive inquiry, was formally laid before the Tariff Board by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, Ottawa. Its terms are as follows:

"An inquiry into the operation in Canada of the automotive industry, particularly as regards the bearing thereon of customs and excise duties."

It was the relationship of the "production of parts in the larger industry; the principles and operation of drawbacks for domestic consumption; matters as to content and cost of distribution, and the prices at which motor-vehicles shall be sold retail in Canada."

The tariff board has no announced sitting in Victoria on the present visit, but will open its second British Columbia inquiry at the Hotel Vancouver on May 20, at 10:30 a.m.

Later, the board will go to Calgary for a hearing on May 21 on customs duties on importation of "grade" petroleum and its products.

RELIGIOUS REUNION FOR BLIND PLANNED
PARIS, April 30 (CP-Havas).—Plans were under way here today for a "crusade of the blind," a religious reunion to be held in the famous Church of the Sacred Heart on Montmartre for 7,000 blind Roman Catholics from six countries including Canada. The authoritative newspaper of Rome, L'Espresso, said the Reich's naval plans for 1935-36 were not limited to the twelve submarines reported in Berlin and London dispatches, but embraced also construction of thirty-one naval units, including two 20,000-ton cruisers.

BERLIN, April 30 (AP).—Adolf Hitler was believed in competent quarters tonight to be planning to keep him in the "drivers seat" in arm negotiations with other powers.

RELIIGIOUS REUNION FOR BLIND PLANNED
PARIS, April 30 (CP-Havas).—Plans were under way here today for a "crusade of the blind," a religious reunion to be held in the famous Church of the Sacred Heart on Montmartre for 7,000 blind Roman Catholics from six countries including Canada. Representatives from Canada, French Indo-China, Italy, Spain and England will attend the services.

He declined to say what Italy's position in the face of this development would be, asserting Benito Mussolini himself must decide that.

The authoritative newspaper of Rome, L'Espresso, said the Reich's naval plans for 1935-36 were not limited to the twelve submarines reported in Berlin and London dispatches, but embraced also construction of thirty-one naval units, including two 20,000-ton cruisers.

SECRETARY EXPLAINED
BERLIN, April 30 (AP).—Adolf Hitler was believed in competent quarters tonight to be planning to keep him in the "drivers seat" in arm negotiations with other powers.

It was thus these quarters explained the continued official secrecy concerning the extent of the Reich's plans for naval construction, and the reiterated official denial that submarines actually have been constructed.

Commentators here said the further they decide to shroud his naval plans in continued official secrecy and approach the scheduled Anglo-German naval conversations, reluctantly.

Commenting on reports from abroad that the Reich already had six submarines ready for manœuvres, one foreign naval expert said: "It is impossible to hide a submarine along Germany's coast and what would be a hidden submarine be for such things as training?"

WOMEN OPPOSE RELIEF CAMPS

Thirty-Five Organize Victoria League for Social Justice in C.C.F. Hall

With the primary purpose of leading the campaign for the abolition of relief camps, thirty-five women formed themselves into the Victoria Women's League for Social Justice yesterday afternoon in the C.C.F. Hall.

Mrs. Edward Lewis was named president and Mrs. W. B. Caird, secretary-treasurer.

Those elected to the executive were Mrs. P. Elmslie, Mrs. H. Bosden, Mrs. J. Beaumont, Mrs. M. Bateson and Mrs. Angus Campbell.

PLAN TAG DAY

The first move of the organization was to seek permission from Mayor David Fleming to hold a tag day on May 11 to raise funds for relief camp strikers. The delegation was met by the Mayor's secretary, John Barker, who advised them, to put the request in writing. Later at the meeting, members declared that if permission is not granted, we will tag anyway.

All women's organizations in the city will be contacted by members of the newly-formed group, and asked to support the movement against relief camps, it was decided.

Reverend Bray, vice-chairman of the C.C.F. Unemployment Conference of the Victoria branch, will lead the women in their organization yesterday. A similar meeting will be held for men today at 2 p.m. in the C.C.F. Hall.

PRESENTS ROAD EVENT AWARDS

Prizes Won in Britannia Branch Good Friday Race Distributed at Concert

A concert, at which prizes won in the Good Friday road races, sponsored by the branch, were presented, was held last night in the Shrine Hall under the auspices of the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion. Mrs. G. C. Jones, wife of the commander of the Britannia branch, presented the awards. Percy C. Payne, chairman of the branch entertainment committee, presided. There were 450 persons present.

The programme was well-balanced and varied, with the acts interspersed with selections by the Britannia Branch Band, under the direction of Charles Raine.

Fred Loeffler, Y.M.C.A. winner of the senior event, received the Britannia Branch Challenge Cup and a club bag. Clarence Sluggert, winner of a tweed jacket for second place, was not present. Roy Loeffler, Y.M.C.A. was presented with an electric toaster for third place, while a special silver casserole was awarded to Cassie Plummer, as the most consistent runner. The latter had competed in ten events.

JUNIOR AWARDS
Junior awards were presented to E. Geddes, Sooke, A.A.A.; R. Price, R.C.M.; P. Miller, R.C.N. and James Robinson, Y.M.C.A., while juvenile prizes were awarded to Bert Hudson, Y.M.C.A.; Lewis McCorkill, unattached; William Chass and C. H. Pallister, both of Tillamook School.

Those taking part in the programme were: Miss Phyllis Holmes; sons: R. Stoffer, instrumental and whistling solo; the Finn Sisters, three girls in a song and dance act; Miss Barbara Dawson, songs; George Little, eleventh; B. Brown, humorist; Mrs. Cerver, songs; Alfred Adams, songs; Stanley James, humorous songs; and R. Hutchinson and F. Pen, duet.

Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson, Lieutenant-Governor, and Mrs. Johnson, with a party from Government House, were present at the concert.

City and District

Building Permit—A Middleton has taken out a permit for the erection of an eight-room house in Oak Bay, estimated to cost $8,000. It will be located on Cadboro Bay Road.

Provincial Museum—From today until October 31 the Provincial Museum will be open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and on Sunday afternoon from 1 to 5 p.m.

Meet Tonight—The finance committee of the May 24 celebration committee will hold a special meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce.

Oil Fire—Fire caused through the lighting of a quantity of oil at the Mak Mor Company, Limited, yesterday afternoon, caused little damage. City firemen quickly extinguished the blaze.

Repeat Marches—Continuing their thirty-seven day strike, carrying signs asking for "work and wages," yesterday paraded through downtown department and chain stores. They met no police in their march.

Attempted Breakout—While attempting to break into the home of Mrs. L. B. Wilkinson, 1392 Rockwood Avenue, early yesterday morning a thief took flight and fled, leaving a piece of a file stuck in the sash of a front window, according to a police report.

Changes Slogan—The annual guide of the Courtenay Board of Trade will not feature the slogan "Turn North at Nanaimo," in its next issue. The guide this year will be published by the Courtenay branch of the Tourist Trade Development Association of Vancouver Island.

New Pulp Mill—The Mutual Pulp & Paper Mills, of Prince Rupert, was incorporated under the laws of British Columbia yesterday, capitalized at 150,000 shares of a maximum value of $1 each. R. S. Stultz and F. L. Buckley, both of Vancouver, were cited as directors.

Donates Tulips—Dirk Van der Bent, president of Braefoot Bulb Growers' Association, yesterday donated 100 dozen assorted varieties of tulips to the Jubilee Hospital for the benefit of inmates. Mr. Van der Bent's farm at present contains more than 250,000 flowering tulips of sixty varieties.

Imposes Jail Sentence—Henry Tidbury was found guilty by Magistrate Jay yesterday of an indecent assault upon a young girl, and was sentenced to months in jail. The magistrate said that he had reached the conclusion from the evidence that there has been a technical assault, although no personal injury resulted.

Dismissed Board—Officials of the British Columbia Department of Education confirmed yesterday the fact that the Pitt Meadows School Board had been dismissed. Lack of harmony between the teaching staff at the school and the elected trustees led to the action taken by the Government, acting on the recommendation of the district school inspector, it was stated.

Salvation Army Meeting—Adjutant and Mrs. Ede will lead a public meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the Salvation Army Hall, upstairs at the corner of Constant Avenue and Esquimalt Road. A band from the Broad Street Citadel will be in attendance. On Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock a Sunday school will be started for children in the district not attending elsewhere.

Kiwanis Visitors—Members of New Westminster Kiwanis Club, with their wives and families, plan to visit Victoria on June 1 for a three-day holiday. Dr. A. M. Menzies, vice-president of Victoria Kiwanis Club, presided this information yesterday from Dr. George Wilson, of New Westminster. A visit to the monument, banquet, ball and sightseeing

BUY NOTHING—SEND NO CARTON—SELL NOTHING
45 Free Prizes—No Letter to Write—No "Catch"

Win a valuable CASH PRIZE! You can do it as easily as anyone else. There is no "catch." No letter to write. No carton to send. Buy nothing. Sell nothing. Nothing does not count.

You wonder why we are giving away cash. Here is the reason: We want you to know that Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for thousands of people who have been suffering from kidney trouble. We want you to know that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best kidney pills in the world. We want you to know that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only kidney pills that are made in Canada.

Opposite each letter you will see a little square. Place the figure "1" in the square opposite the letter you like best. The figure "2" in the square opposite the letter you like second best—and so on until the figure "10" is placed in the square opposite the letter you like least.

READ THE FOLLOWING LETTERS CAREFULLY

MRS. J. T. LEGALIT, graduate nurse, of 262 Leger St., Ottawa, writes: "I have, been a nurse for over 15 years. I was suffering from kidney trouble for many years. I had tried everything I could think of, but my back got worse. I had to be taken home from work and put to bed. A friend suggested Dodd's Kidney Pills. Before I had taken the third box I was relieved of my trouble and felt like a new man. I thoroughly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney trouble."

MR. T. C. VANSON of 959 Runnymede Rd., Toronto, writes: "I would not be without Dodd's Kidney Pills. During the summer months I spend my time as a gardener and handman in the Muskoka District and the rainy weather and the drinking water place a terrible strain on my kidneys which is always promptly relieved by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

MR. W. PEACOCK of 33 Voth St., Halifax, writes: "I was seized by a stinging pain across the small of my back. Every time I bent I could hardly raise myself. I tried everything I could think of, but my back got worse. I had to be taken home from work and put to bed. A friend suggested Dodd's Kidney Pills. Before I had taken the third box I was relieved of my trouble and felt like a new man. I thoroughly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney trouble."

MR. M. WILSON of 1308 Midway St., Winnipeg, writes: "I have never had a serious illness, due to the fact, I think, that I could hardly raise myself. I tried everything I could think of, but my back got worse. I had to be taken home from work and put to bed. A friend suggested Dodd's Kidney Pills. Before I had taken the third box I was relieved of my trouble and felt like a new man. I thoroughly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney trouble."

MRS. E. BARRETT of 93 Elm St., London, Ont., writes: "About 5 months ago I was feeling half sick. Tired all the time. No pep. No weight. Naturally I was pretty much worried as I have a family of 4 children. The doctor tested my blood and said I was anemic. Mother advised Dodd's Kidney Pills and after one medicine failed. I was the turning point for me. I used 5 boxes and am now back to normal weight and feel like a new living again—Thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

MRS. A. W. BROOKS of 648 Nanaimo St., Vancouver, writes: "I was subject to dizzy spells and my back ached so badly that at times I could hardly stand up. I tried different medicines but nothing did me any good. A friend, who had used Dodd's Kidney Pills, advised me to try them. After six boxes I felt a different woman and my back did not bother me any more. I now always keep a supply of Dodd's Kidney Pills in the house."

MRS. R. GALLANT of 31 Spruce Park Rd., Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes: "I am 45 years old and was bothered with rheumatism and backache for over 10 years. I had a bad pain in my left shoulder and my limbs would go numb at times. I tried all kinds of medicine but got no relief until I used Dodd's Kidney Pills and was soon free. Hoping this letter will help some other sufferers."

HOW WINNERS WILL BE DECIDED
The letter containing the above which is marked "1" by the greatest number of winners, will be selected by the makers of Dodd's Kidney Pills. The letter containing the above which is marked "2" by the second greatest number of winners will be selected second best, and so on. In this manner the winners will be determined. The letter containing the above which is marked "1" by the greatest number of winners will be selected first, and so on. The letter containing the above which is marked "2" by the second greatest number of winners will be selected second best, and so on. In this manner the winners will be determined.

Canadian Poetess Gives Address on Tour Experiences

Edna Jacques Heard by Nearly 400 Persons at Women's Canadian Club Meeting—Incidents on 7,000-Mile Journey Narrated

A 7,000-MILE journey of Western Canada, on a lecture tour for the Women's Canadian Club, was described by Edna Jacques, Canadian poetess, at the Women's Canadian Club meeting in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon. Nearly 400 persons attended.

She told her audience that in all her travels she saw nothing to compare to the beauty and charm of Victoria, and recited a poem of her own composition in which she praised the beauty of the Queen City as described.

Because of her long trip, she had to travel in a motor car, and she found peace and contentment in the beauty and charm of Victoria, and recited a poem of her own composition in which she praised the beauty of the Queen City as described.

Cowichan Hospital W.A.

Mrs. G. H. Savage presided at a well-attended meeting of the W.A. to the Cowichan Hospital Association at the Nurses' Home, Duncan, Monday afternoon. Mrs. N. McIver and Mrs. E. W. Noel reported for the committee. The district was reported by the committee as being in good condition. The annual garden party to be held June 1. Among the proposed attractions is an archery contest, for which bows and arrows are being made by local Indians. Other suggestions include a clock race, house-house, tulip garden, cooked food, and novelty stall, home-made sweets, ice-cream and tea. The committee in charge of the annual membership drive reported that the drive was now under way, with the district well covered by canvassers with the exception of Cowichan Bay and Cowichan Station, where difficulty is being experienced in finding willing helpers. Mrs. K. A. Duncan reported for the new young committee, and Mrs. H. W. McKenzie for the meeting committee that the work was progressing satisfactorily. The auxiliary agreed to serve tea at the Nurses' Home on Hospital Sunday to all visitors. Miss Shand, matron of the hospital, spoke briefly on the needs of the institution, sheets and towels being particularly mentioned among the requirements. Tea was served by Mrs. E. W. Noel, Mrs. G. M. Poyser and Mrs. H. W. McKenzie.

Juliette Junior W.A.

Miss Joan Hallett, the new social service worker, spoke before an interested gathering of members of the Juliette W.A. to the Juliette Hospital at their regular meeting Monday afternoon. She told of the work being accomplished and announced that several changes were being made including the combining of the filing and visiting committees. Reports on the dog show, to be held on May 18, were given and a request for prizes for the children's section was made by Mrs. Ogden Kenning, who is in charge of this particular class. Mrs. J. Stewart, on behalf of the senior auxiliary, expressed appreciation to the members for their assistance with the recent tag day. The sum of $25 was spent during the month for blood transfusions.

Summer Style Review

Presented by the Hudson's Bay Company
Immediately before each session there will be a pre-showing of the latest in early Summer frocks and dresses, vacation needs and tips for prospective travelers.

ADMISSION - - - 10c

New recipes, direct from the test kitchens of DeBoth... new methods of utilizing household appliances, hints that will raise the standard of efficiency in the home... these are offered in a series of delightful lectures by Miss Andree. Clear and concise statements illustrated by practical demonstrations will bring her message to every housewife, whether she be an experienced cook or an absolute novice. The Colonist Cooking and Homemakers' School is a resume of the advance in lightening the burden of housekeeping, told in an interesting, entertaining manner.

FOUR SESSIONS:

Tuesday, May 7 ..... 2 P.M.
Thursday, May 9 ..... 2 P.M.
Friday, May 10 (Two Sessions)
9:30 A.M. and 2 P.M.

Lecturer of the DeBoth Home makers' School.

Local Housewives Will Benefit by Cooking Classes

Sessions at Shrine Auditorium, Sponsored by The Daily Colonist, Attracting Wide Interest—Many Gifts Will Be Presented—Local Firms Co-Operate—Fashion Parade to Be Held

DEBUTANTES, brides and experienced housewives, all have marked next Tuesday as a red letter day on their engagement calendar. It is the date set for the opening of The Daily Colonist Cooking and Homemakers' School, to be held at the Shrine Auditorium, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

Held under the direction of Miss natural step from the latest in Claire Andree, well-known lecturer, audience waits for every move from the DeBoth Homemakers' School, these courses will be carefully explained.

The classes will be fitted up as a dining-room set standing in one section. Thus, both the art of preparation and serving of food can be clearly shown. The lectures are delivered in such a manner as to be comprehensive and instructive to the woman who has never cooked before or to the housewife who considers herself an expert.

MANY AWARDS
Twenty-five market baskets, filled with nationally known foods, will be given away each day, in addition to those there will be numerous other gifts. Among these donating good-will offerings to the patrons of the school are the Standard Baking Co., Ltd., the International Tea and Spice Co., Ltd., Colman-Kee, Ltd., Reckitt's Overseas, Ltd., Nicholson & Brock, Ltd., Hall's Hardware, F. W. Francis, Jewellers, and Canadian Bakeries, Ltd. A special gift will be four Cluix-finished "Swiss" radiators awarded by the Canadian Industries, Ltd.

Pride in the home and pride of household management is the latest in dress. Immediately prior to each session the Hudson's Bay Company will present a special showing of the newest modes in early Summer styles, together with vacation needs and hints to prospective travelers.

FOUR SESSIONS
There will be four sessions in all, namely, Tuesday, at 2 p.m.; Thursday, at 2 p.m.; Friday, at 9:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. From the moment

St. Mary's Guild Holds Successful Jubilee Tea

Most charmingly arranged was the jubilee tea held yesterday afternoon by St. Mary's Guild in St. Mary's Hall. Red tulips, white narcissi and bluebells carried out the patriotic colors and were effective in the decoration of the tables and hall. Mrs. H. A. Youdale, the president, and Mrs. A. E. deL. Nunn welcomed the guests. Approximately $100 was realized from the tea.

Upon the tables silver tea and coffee urns, trays and food containers were used, which, with the gay arrangement of flowers and tall red lighted tapers, made a brilliant effect. Exquisite life-like figurines of the King and Queen emphasized the importance of the occasion. The figurines were the work of Mrs. F. E. Blowers. The Queen was attired in evening dress and the King was in admiral's uniform.

The general conveners were Mrs.

... Above All, We Must Gain Your Attention!

Your booklet or mailing piece may tell the most interesting story in the world, but it can't tell that story from the waste basket. Too much advertising literature is tossed aside, unread because it simply lacks attention value. And the man who saves a few pennies on cheap printing is costing his firm thousands in waste expenditure.

The Colonist printing "gets through" with your message because it has attention value. Interesting layouts, attractive cuts, distinctive typography and better stock cost but little more... But that difference spells more sales.

MAKES APPEAL FOR CLOTHING

Friendly Help Welfare Association
Asks Citizens to Donate Used Garments

The executive of the Friendly Help Welfare Association of Victoria makes an appeal for donations of wearable used clothing for which there is at the present time urgent need.

During the year 1934 the association provided new and second-hand clothing to 462 city families, comprising 2,772 individuals. In addition, nearly $14,000 was spent by the association on new clothing and on renovating used clothing and repairing boots, shoes, etc., and it is estimated that this year between $18,000 and $20,000 will be needed for this purpose. Only by making the fullest use of second-hand clothing can this amount be made to cover all needs.

In almost every home there are to be found old skirts, underwear, men's shirts or trousers that could be cut into smaller garments, old sweaters that could be reknitted, old stockings for rug making, old patches for quilts, or boots and shoes that are still capable of giving service.

The association will be grateful for donations of articles of this kind. If possible, parcels should be left at Welfare House, 1234 Pandora Avenue, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. If, however, it is not possible to deliver parcels, by telephoning Garden 7194 they will be called for.

MANY VICTORIANS ATTEND REUNION

Annual Dinner of 11th Divisional
C.A.S.C. Held in Georgia
Hotel, Vancouver

Members of the 11th Divisional C.A.S.C. held their regimental dinner in the York Room at the Georgia Hotel in Vancouver on Saturday night. Some twenty officers and other ranks from Victoria attended. Among the guests were: Colonel H. C. Greer, the senior officer in the 11th Division in Canada; and Lieutenant Colonel Harrison, former commanding officer of the unit.

Lieut. Colonel Burton, Williston, officer commanding, in responding to the toast of "Our O.C.," proposed by Major Hugh Allan, thanked all ranks for the splendid co-operation that had been shown during the year, resulting in a very high standard of efficiency throughout the unit. Pointing out the difficulties of the headquarters of the unit were at present in Vancouver, the supply and ammunition companies being also stationed there, it became necessary for the maintenance and baggage companies in Victoria to do their training independently, contributing once a year at the annual camp on July 1.

The following attended from Victoria: Major Hugh Allan, C.S.O. Hdqrs.; Major H. L. Rose, O.C. No. 11 Maintenance Company; Lieut. Eric Howley, O.C. 11th Divisional Baggage Company; 2nd Lieut. McNeilson; 2nd Lieut. J. Burdick; C.Q.M.S. Greenwell, Sigs. Coy. and Flood, Cpls. Simpson, Dunn and Lowe, Privates Clarke, Clowes, Millington, Morton, Regan and Setington.

During the evening some excellent vocal selections were enjoyed and also a sketch under the stage management of Lieut. Eric Howley, Colonel Greer spoke of the history of the Army Service Corps, dwelling on the multiplicity of duties in supply and transport and the dependence of the rest of the army on the corps' efficiency.

What Today Means

"TAURUS"
If May 1 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:45 to 11:45 a.m. from 1:45 to 3:45 p.m. and from 6:45 to 8:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:45 to 9:45 a.m., from 3:45 to 5:45 p.m. and from 8:45 to 10:45 p.m.

Today calls for deliberation, before adopting any plan of action, as errors of judgment may be costly. Speculative tendencies should be curbed and conservatism practiced. Prices of commodities should not be taken for granted, but carefully checked. Letters written in haste on this date may be repeated at leisure, so be guarded in the way you express your feelings in black and white. Any disregard for conventionalities at a social affair is likely to be a decided mistake and result in a quarrel. Interesting news may have an important bearing on some of your plans, but before making any change in them, it will perhaps be wise to verify what ever you hear. It will be fatal to skip your conversation for fear of gossip or harsh criticism, as there may be danger of being repeated or overheard. Married and engaged couples, as well as those hopeful for an agreement of espousal, will give their own interests best by being ready to be of service to others. If a woman and May 1 is your birthday, your sweet, lovable disposition may have one trait it is im-

"Victorian Era" 1859-1879

The Fraser gold rush is on a thousand ounces of gold arrived at Victoria from mouth to mouth the news travels fast. From Vancouver Island the laborer and farmer converge on the Fraser. The Company's blacksmith at Victoria works night and day, fashioning picks, shovels and tools for these seekers after a new El Dorado. Soldiers desert their posts at Bellingham and Port Townsend. Ships, deserted by their crews, lie idle in Puget Sound.

James Douglas rules with an iron hand. The territory is saved to the flag by his opportune firmness.

The Oregon Treaty forces the attention of the Company to the North.

In Ottawa the Fathers of Confederation agree at last.

The Dominion of Canada is brought into being.

In the Red River, rebellion rears its head under Louis Riel, and is crushed. 1870 sees Manitoba enter the Dominion. 1871 British Columbia follows suit. From sea to sea the Dominion is a reality. The Fathers have builded better than they knew.

The search for gold drives and wanes. For four hundred miles the Cariboo Road leads from Yale along cavern and crag to Quesnel, Hazelton, Lytton, Williams Creek, Lillooet, and other settlements where miners have congregated. Agriculture, stock raising and other endeavors engage the efforts of the settlers. To serve these people, to anticipate their wants and to supply their necessities is the new task of an ancient Company.

At the Theatres

PLAYHOUSE Claudette Colbert, star of Paramount's "The Gilded Lily," now at the Playhouse Theatre, Inc. that time are now being named for her. Fashioned after the ring Miss Colbert wears in her new picture, the Claudette Colbert ring is crystal with Oriental rubies and four rows of diamonds set in platinum bands.

CAPITOL Another triumph for "The Scarlet Pimpernel" showing at the Capitol Theatre. Leslie Howard, one of the best actors appearing in the movies today, has the finest role of his career as Sir Percy Blakeney. Beautiful Merle Oberon is charming as Lady Blakeney and the former Torontoan, Raymond Massey, is convincingly threatening as the dark and sinister Chivalier.

COLUMBIA Ralph Bellamy who portrays the role of "Inspector Trent" in Columbia's mystery, "The Crime of Helen Stanley," which is now at the Columbia Theatre, has portrayed approximately 375 roles in stock companies all over the United States. He claims his wide and diversified experience on the stage enabled him to appear in pictures.

DOMINION Warren William and Kay Francis are now appearing on the screen in the Dominion Theatre in "Living on Velvet," the popular first-class technique, which is extraordinary in its quality of a Horowitz and in its technique, which is extraordinary in its quality of a Horowitz and in its technique, which is extraordinary in its quality of a Horowitz.

"ROBERTA" ON SCREEN AT CAPITOL SATURDAY

Combining the talents of the three stars said to be most ideally suited to musical comedy, RKO-Radio brings to the screen, Saturday, "Roberta," the Jerome Kern hit which proved a stage sensation. Irene Dunne, Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers are headlined in the motion picture.

With Miss Dunne singing, Astaire and Miss Rogers dancing, and a host of beautiful girls displaying the latest in feminine style creations, the lavish production is said to move swiftly and tunefully through a most interesting story. The plot centres about a double romance in Paris, city of color and gaiety.

The central situation sees an all-

SEVERAL HOMES ARE CONDEMNED

Civic Officials Continue Drive to Beautify City and Prevent Slums

In its drive to beautify Victoria, officials of the city yesterday listed five more properties upon which dilapidated buildings stand, and for which authorization is asked for their demolition.

Already a number of homes, long in the process of being wrecked, while city officials are inspecting many others to determine whether they should be demolished, or the owner being warned to put them in a fit state of repair to meet the city's sanitary standards.

Those listed yesterday were in the Caledonia Avenue-Cook Street area. In one case several barns are blacklisted, in addition to four houses. Another house has been ordered repaired. Failing this, application will be made to the council for its demolition.

By weeding out dilapidated houses, the city is not only improving rental values, but beautifying the city, and preventing certain districts from developing into slums.

YUKON PIONEER DIES
LETHBRIDGE, Alta., April 30. (CP)—E. W. Rose, sixty-three, Yukon pioneer, who from 1897 to 1901 was a member of the old Royal North-West Mounted Police, died at his home here today.

IBSEN PLAY AT QUALICUM SUCCESS
There was a good attendance at the Community Hall on Monday evening to welcome again the annual visit of the University of British Columbia Players. The play selected was "Hedda Gabler" by Ibsen.

To Hugh Palmer goes the credit for possibly the most sustained acting of the evening, nor can be overlooked the freshness and charm brought to the part of Mrs. Elvsted by Audrey Phillips, and the clever acting of Stuart Kratz as George Lestang and William Bargeant as Ellen Lovborg. The audience showed its appreciation with constant applause.

How do You tell the Difference?

Solid silver and silver plate may look very much alike. Pure soap and impure soap may also look very much alike.

Yet it's easy to tell the difference if you look for the "sterling" mark on silver and the "purity" mark on soap. But this "purity" mark is not on every soap. Sunlight is the only soap which is so carefully made from the purest ingredients that it is stamped: "Guaranteed Pure."

Being all pure soap, Sunlight dissolves readily. It forms plenty of suds so quickly... lasting suds which cleanse most economically. They wash more clothes beautifully clean without harm to fabric or colours... and Sunlight's pure, gentle suds never could roughen or hurt your hands.

To the women who have once used Sunlight, other soaps are never

CHAPTER XXVII.

"I'm almost inclined to believe," Inspector Cox said, "to go over to the heathen side and believe with Mrs. Mingie that that scoundrel of a wooden image did the thing."

"How did he get in?" Fleming Stone asked, looking at the Inspector. "He was waiting no time or thought on Koro-war. He had now a definite problem to solve."

"Who killed Samfari, and how did he get into the locked room where Samfari lay asleep?"

"If he's as evil and as powerful as Mrs. Mingie makes out, he didn't need any regular way to get in. He went through the walls, I suppose."

"Now, Inspector, I planned to work with you, but I can't do it if you're going to talk like that. If you're testing it's a wicked waste of time, and if you really believe in supernatural powers, then—here's where I get off."

"Oh, no, I'm not foolish enough to believe in that raw-head-and-bloody-bones bugaboos. But if I ignore him, I've no one but you to look for assistance, and I hope you won't fail me. Have you any idea who did it?"

"No, Inspector, that's just what I haven't. We'll have to dig out Rod Campion from our list of suspects, I'm thinking."

"Yes, Rod was really Barry's friend. And we can dismiss the ladies, too."

"The ladies! Good gracious, man!"

Mimic Aerial Attack in England

so far had found none save those of the people in the house.

As had been anticipated, no definite print could be obtained from the handle of the dagger. It was too deeply indented with its ornate pattern to make a surface fit to hold an impression.

And all round the bed of the victim, no prints were found save his own, and here and there one that was identified as that of a servant.

Photography results in nothing of interest.

Mr. Munson, the county coroner, arrived, a small man and an efficient-looking chap. But his looks belied him, for he fairly sprang to his job. He chose Barry's library for his headquarters and asked for a bridge table, which he placed in front of a large easy-chair, and then called his witnesses, Cox and Stone, were allowed to remain in the room with him.

Daniel Wayne was called first, and though in a nervous, worried state, he stood the ordeal well.

"You have, then, had two sons murdered within a month?" Munson said brutally, after a few preliminary questions.

Dan Wayne gave him a startled look, then drew himself together, sat up very straight, and replied, "Yes, Mr. Coroner, I look to you to discover the murderer and learn his methods and motives."

"You assume, then, that there is but one murderer concerned with both cases?"

"I am not aware that we are now considering any case other than the murder, last night, of my son Samfari. Can I tell you anything bearing on this new tragedy?"

Mr. Munson began to fidget a little. He was not accustomed to receive such a slight showing of defiance and respect, and he resented it.

"I will ask the questions myself, Mr. Wayne. Have you a suspicion of anyone who might have had a feeling of enmity toward this newly-found son of yours?"

"Oh, no, I have no suspicions. That's what I want to learn from you."

"You had adopted him?"

"I was about to do so legally. I had written my lawyer to come here and look into the matter."

"And you were about to make him your heir?"

"I expected to do so, yes."

"Would that impair or interfere with the prospects of any other possible inheritor of your wealth?"

Dan stared at him. "Of course not. I have no other presumptive heir, unless you mean my brother, who is by no means forgotten in my will."

"I see. Now, Mr. Wayne, I understand you were the last person to see Mr. Samfari Wayne last evening?"

"Why, yes, I suppose I was. I begged him not to fasten his outer door, but he wouldn't promise, and I distinctly heard him click the latch, which fastens it on the inside, and I also heard the bolt shot home."

"Why did you object to this procedure?"

"Because Samfari had received a threatening note, and I feared some injury might come to him, so I wanted his door left unlocked."

"May I see this threatening note you speak of?"

"It is in my possession," interposed Fleming Stone. "Now, if you choose, or let me, I will show it to you. It bears a warning that he must not stay here in Barry Wayne's place."

"May I ask, Mr. Wayne, why you stationed the two watchers outside a door through which they couldn't possibly gain entrance in case of an alarm?"

"I could think of no other plan," Dan said wearily. "And I hoped, if need arose, Samfari could get at the door and unlock it, finding help at hand. I didn't think of murder at all, but of a possible joke to scare him with a heathen image, which is around the house somewhere."

"And now you don't think the frightful deed was done?"

"It isn't an idle word," Mr. Wayne said slowly. "I've been wondering what possible motive could be back of the crime. They seem utterly inexplicable to me—as if the work of a madman."

"Or a mad woman. You may go, Mr. Wayne, and please send your brother to me right on his return send the housekeeper—Mrs. Mingie, is it?"

"Very well. But, though Mrs. Mingie has some peculiarities, don't imagine her mind is affected in any way."

"Let me be the judge of that, if you please."

Dan Wayne stalked out, full of resentment. Finding Pat, he told him to go to the coroner, and added, "For heaven's sake, don't let that chap have it in for Mingie. She'd talk back and there'd be the devil to pay."

Pat nodded his understanding, and but to meet the inquirer. He smiled at Munson, dropped into an easy chair, and asked permission to light a cigarette.

"Of course, sir," the coroner agreed, "good for your nerves. Your brother is in a pathetic state. So worried."

"Who wouldn't be?" and Pat flared up. "Any other man, who had gone through what my brother has gone through, would be in the hands of a nervous specialist. I am almost as bad. Have a heart, man. Think of three murders in your home inside of a fortnight—one inquest after another—show me the man who could go through such ordeals and keep a calm placidity!"

"You had guests here last night?"

"Well, there were people here, not a party, of course, but a few neighbors and friends who had heard of our adopting Samfari and came in to congratulate him."

"Was Mr. Rodney Campion among the guests?"

"He was."

"Why do you say we adopted the young man? Had you any part in it?"

"Oh, not legally, of course. But Dan and I always do everything together, and we talked the matter over a good deal before we decided. Sometimes Barry used to say that he had two fathers, rather than a father and an uncle. I dare say young Samfari would have felt the same way about that had he lived longer, poor chap."

"I have an odd idea, Mr. Wayne, that the tragic death of last night was the work of a woman rather than that of a man. What do you think?"

"I do not agree with you. I think Samfari was stabbed to death by a man."

"And how did your hypothetical man enter those locked rooms?"

"The same way your hypothetical woman got in. Come now Mr. Coroner, why wonder who did it until you discover how it could have been done?"

"Mr. Stone says there are several ways that an entry may have been made."

"Well, he knows. Another theory is that the murderer was concealed in the suite somewhere, perhaps in a wardrobe or closet, and that he came out of hiding and killed his victim, and then went back again to his place of concealment."

"Then how did he get out of the suite?"

"Well, that theory implies his making a getaway when the police break in and others follow and there is such crowding and confusion that the murderer may make his escape or join the crowd, as if with them all the time."

"And you think this could have happened to the murderer of Samfari Wayne?"

"I know it could not."

"How do you know that?"

"Because I was there this morning when the window was opened. I followed Mr. Stone into the room, and I know there was no one else there then."

"Might have been hiding."

"Well, I suppose so. Yes, might have been hiding."

After hearing a part of the evidence against Isaac Storey of assault causing bodily harm, to at the Ross Bay seawall.

A. J. Patton appeared for the prosecution and H. A. Maclean, K.C., was for the defendant.

The case arises out of differences between Mr. Ferguson, relief worker engaged by the city as a truck driver, and the accused, who is a foreman. It is alleged that blows were exchanged between the two men. They were engaged in work at the Ross Bay seawall.

Jefferson Brought Cosmopolitan List
Of Travelers Here

Ship Arrived From Orient Yesterday Afternoon—
Passengers Included Businessmen, Missionaries, Naval Officers and Tourists

With a large list of passengers and considerable cargo aboard, the American Mail Line ship "President Jefferson," Captain A. O. Lister, commander, docked at Bligh Pier, shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Officers of the liner reported an uneventful passage of the Pacific, with the exception of a three day blow last week-end, which tossed the ship about in a lively fashion. A number of passengers disembarked here, and some 600 tons of general cargo were left on the local dock before the ship proceeded to Seattle at 4:30 o'clock.

Among the passengers, including here was A. M. Innes, who boarded the Jefferson at Hongkong. He is leaving the Orient for good, and expects to spend some time in Canada before continuing to England, where he will visit a brother. Mr. Innes was connected with the Bakt Pual Rubber Estate in Mahore, Malaya, as a rubber planter.

On a three years' tour, Y. Bagha and S. Vanada, who are connected with the Goshu Kabushiki Kaisha, will spend some time in the United States before proceeding to South America, where they will represent the company.

Mr. A. P. Kroeger, from Kobe, a New York representative for Katsura Corporation, shippers of raw silk, Yokohama, will spend some time in the United States before proceeding to Europe, where he will endeavor to have silk routed from Japan across the Pacific, the United States and the Atlantic. Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Reinbrecht, who are going to Akron, where the former was connected with the Rubber Service Laboratories.

Soviet Names Needs in Barter for Chinese Eastern Railway

The Japan-to-Russia Export Guild, which was organized some years ago under encouragement of the Japanese Government, is now much disappointed because the Government has decided not to entrust the Guild with the export of Japanese goods to the Soviet Union in connection with the purchase of the Chinese Eastern Railway, according to the Nishi Nichi.

About two-thirds of the purchase price of the railway, $3,000,000, is to be paid in goods from Japan and Manchukuo.

At first, the paper reports, the Guild expected the Japanese Government would order it to manage such exports, because the Guild included almost all exporters interested in Japanese Soviet trade. The Government, however, recently notified the Guild that this would be impossible.

Texada Arrives
FROM THE SOUTH

Left Cargo Last Evening—Lumber
Ship Due Today—Excursions
Saturday and Sunday

From California ports, the freighter Texada, of the Kingline Navigation Company's fleet, called here last evening. The Texada had sixty tons of general cargo for local consignees. The freighter proceeded to Mainland ports after completing discharge of local cargo.

To load lumber, the British freighter Hartington is due along side Ogden Point Pier today. It was announced last evening by King Brothers.

With the coming week-end and the beginning of next week, the excursion season for 1935 will get away to a good start. On Saturday, May 4, the Canadian Pacific agent and social organization will sponsor an excursion to Port Angeles in the afternoon, and on Monday the company will inaugurate its series of good steam excursions with a trip around Saltspring Island. The S. S. Princess Elizabeth will take the excursionists and she will sail in the early afternoon.

Similar conditions prevailed on the Texada and Hartington, whose most effective work is done at night, with the deadly torpedoes, which remain one of the most effective weapons at sea.

Large and powerful submarines are participating in these maneuvers, such as the 31-footers, and the 31-footers.

These underwater cruisers have their advantage in one of the most valuable assets in sea fighting, the element of surprise. They are considerably faster than the train supply ships of the navy, and their officers know that a fleet is in danger from their slowest elements.

Over 10,000 Suggestions for Improvements Submitted by Railway Employees in Five Years

MONTREAL, April 29.—More than 10,000 suggestions for the improvement of tools and equipment, working conditions, and housing conditions were put forward through the maintenance of way co-operative plan of the Canadian National Railway during the five years of that plan's existence on the system, it was stated at the annual meeting of the system co-operative committee, which concluded here last night.

Of these suggestions, more than half of which were adopted, more than 8,000 came from representatives of the employees. The greatest value in the co-operative union management plan, the meeting was told, lies in the better understanding between the company and its employees which this plan has brought about.

ROUND TABLE PARLEY
The monthly meeting, representing maintenance of way employees, of the Canadian National system from Atlantic to Pacific, met under the chairmanship of A. J. Hills, chief of personnel of the National system.

Tuesday, which was the first of the company representatives of employees, and a round table discussion of problems encountered in maintenance of way work. The employees were represented by general chairman, vice-chairmen and assistant general chairman of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employees.

Mr. Hills stated that the electric locomotive had been installed and was operating on the No. 10 level at the Ymir mill hauling ore and materials. All other additional equipment except mill machinery has been delivered at the mill and is now being installed. Timber for the mill building is being framed in Vancouver and will be shipped ready to set up on the foundations already in place.

Work on the main crusher plant is scheduled to commence May 25, and complete installation of the mill is expected to be finished by June 25. At the Goodenough mine, Mr. Hills stated that development is taking place on two faces following the vein out towards the No. 3 level of Ymir and drilling under the major stope on the Goodenough No. 1 level.

Garage Men From
Bombay to Study
Cars in Detroit

Four blood cousins, from four families, F. D. Chisney, F. B. Chisney, A. N. Chisney and E. D. Chisney, were arrivals on the American Mail Line S. S. President Jefferson here yesterday. They are all from Bombay and joined the ship at Hongkong.

The cousins are all connected with the Bombay Garage, and are going to spend a year at the General Motors School of Technology at Detroit, after which they intend to study to some extent in Europe before proceeding home to extend their motor car business.

While in America and Europe they will study refrigerating plants as well as and expect to go heavily into ice-making machinery and its installation when they get back to Bombay.

It was darkened ship and radio along aboard all of the warships. Night ports were closed and patrols were vigilant on every craft that made certain no lights were visible.

Defence against submarine and destroyer attack at night is one of the important factors. Below decks there were dim, blue lights so that way could be found for those moving about the warships.

Island for this industry. He stated that 2,000,000 bulbs were imported annually to Canada from Holland, and that the majority were in the open air. He pointed out that this trade might, with highly satisfactory results, easily be kept in Canada. He was anxious to see a branch of the Tulip Growers' Association established on Vancouver Island and with regard to this idea, he intends to return to the mainland shortly. "Anyone interested in tulips should get in touch with him," said Mr. Wilson. He is Mr. N. W. Wilson and D. Winter.

Afternoon tea, under the management of Mrs. A. Inglis and help, was served at beautifully arranged tables in the hall, a member being present at each and responsible for the floral decorations, linen, china, etc. Judging for the flowers and decorated tables which were far more numerous than last year, was done by popular vote. ## BACKS CENSURE OF TRAVELERS

Comox Board of Trade
Complains of Insufficient
Attention to Highway

COURTENAY, April 30.—Endorsement was given to the United Commercial Travelers' censure of Government road policy at the meeting of the Courtenay-Comox Board of Trade on Monday night. The complaint includes insufficient attention to the Island Highway, making driving unsafe and failure of the provincial authorities to keep pace with modern needs in highway construction. The Travelers' advocate a properly established permanent highway commission of experts free from political influence, which would permit of the Minister of Public Works taking part in its deliberations, instead of the unsatisfactory system that has prevailed in the past. Vancouver Island, it was pointed out, has contributed in generous measure to Provincial revenue and has not received anything near its share of attention to its highway needs when receipts from the Island to the Provincial Treasury are compared with expenditures on the Island. Hon. F. M. Macpherson will be notified.

This was the first meeting of the newly-elected board and a demonstration work occupied the attention of members.
In future it was agreed, all committee chairman will be expected to submit a report of their committee activities at the end of the year. The appointment of the personnel of the committees was left to President C. S. Wood.

No Separate Honors List For Jubilee

LONDON, April 30 (C.P.)—There will be no separate honors list in connection with His Majesty's Silver Jubilee celebrations. It was announced yesterday.
The usual birthday list, which will be published on June 3, will contain the names of many men and women prominent in public affairs during the last twenty-five years.

ERNIE ENERGY

"SPEEDY" IS THE WORD, ERNIE! AND YOU GET IT FROM GRAPE-NUTS BECAUSE THERE IS MORE ENERGY AND BETTER BALANCED NOURISHMENT IN FOUR HEAPING TEASPOONS OF GRAPE-NUTS, WITH MILK, THAN THERE IS IN A SERVING OF CHICKEN.

Of course Ernie Energy hasn't told the whole story. Grape-Nuts is his favourite flavour, too! And it costs so little—only about one cent a serving. Specially prepared for easy digestion. Get a package for tomorrow.

FEW SHOWERS DURING APRIL

Second Sunniest Spring
Month on Record Closes—
Rain Below Average

April was the second sunniest spring month on record since 1891. Napier Denison, director of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory, announced last night. Victoria enjoyed 259 hours and 24 minutes of sunshine during the month. April of 1918, however, was the record month, the sun shining for 273 hours.
The mean temperature last month was 49 degrees, which was equal to the average. The lowest temperature was 34 degrees on April 2, and the highest, 67, on April 28. The lowest temperature on the grass was 25 degrees on April 3.
Rainfall was much below average, only 38 inch falling, which was 82 inch below normal.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

YOUR BODY NEEDS SALT

Common salt, sodium chloride, is by far the most important and valuable salt used as or found in food. It forms 98 per cent of the salts of the blood and enters into the structure of all the tissues of the body with a single exception of the enamel of the teeth. The amount needed by the body is about one-half ounce daily, which amount is usually found in the foods we eat—that is, if we eat a varied diet. The kidneys are important organs in getting rid of waste products from the body; salt stimulates the blood circulation in the kidneys, which helps get rid of these wastes, which in turn causes thirst and drinking more fluid which stimulates the interchange of fluids in the body.

Prof. Gilman Thompson in his book, "Practical Dietetics," reminds us that salt stimulates the appetite and influences in a beneficial way the digestion of food in the stomach. It also only furnishes the chloride for the hydrochloric acid so necessary for digestion, but converts pepsinogen into active pepsin for the stomach's digestive juice. In fact, the absence of salt from the diet checks the production of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Among the other uses of salt in the body with which we are familiar.

Imported Scotch Prices Lowest in 20 Years

Announcement of the new liquor prices, made possible through the recent reduction in Federal excise taxes, brings fine imported Scotch whisky to the lowest price scale it has known for over twenty years. Not since before the Great War has it been possible to buy imported Scotch at such remarkably low prices.

The sweeping reduction in prices, it is expected by liquor authorities, will considerably increase the consumer demand for the popular old brands of Scotch that are distilled in Scotland.

Prices on fine imported Scotch have been lowered, not only in this province, but throughout the Dominion, as a result of the tax reduction.

Sound Reasons Why You Should Support the Tourist-Trade Development Association

BECAUSE, under present conditions, the Tourist Industry offers Victoria and Vancouver Island the only source of new business capable of quick, large-scale expansion at moderate cost.

In 1929 tourists spent $3,500,000 on Vancouver Island. This can be increased to $15,000,000 at a cost of only 1c or 2c on the dollar.

This is new money. Every cent of it finds its way sooner or later into payrolls and energizes the business life of the community. It helps create more jobs. Makes it possible for the employer to pay better wages. It enables property owners to pay their taxes, and it reduces YOUR taxes if all pay who should.

To increase the Tourist Industry of Victoria and Vancouver Island is a vital concern of every individual, whether employer or employee. It is a problem for co-ordinated effort. That is why the Tourist Trade Development Association of Victoria and Vancouver Island has been formed. It is backed by the largest body of representative citizens ever to give their time and effort to any civic project since the war days.

The following are members of the Special Committee in charge of the "On To Prosperity" drive which is in progress this week:

Col. Brooke Stephenson	J. Forman	J. C. Pendray
Herbert Anscumb	Chas. Henley	G. H. Stevens
J. Barraclough	J. W. Hudson	George Straith
J. O. Cameron	R. H. B. Ker	H. B. Witter
J. H. Fletcher	J. R. Kingham	F. E. Winslow

Cup Member Will Be Named During Meet At Colwood Course

Seven Local Golfers Will Compete for Place on Willingdon Cup Team for Trip East During Jubilee Handicap Meet Over the Week-End—Large Entry List Expected for Meet

Golf as played by leading contenders in the recent British Columbia amateur tournament, which was staged at the Royal Colwood Golf Club, and won by Stan Leonard, of Vancouver, will be in evidence during the monster Jubilee Handicap meet at the same course, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, when it was announced yesterday that the Willingdon Cup team will be competing in the annual inter-provincial championship match at Hamilton, Ont., June 17, and the British Columbia aggregation will be defending cup holders. Most of the personnel of the squad is already chosen, but one Victorian is yet to be named, and officials of the British Columbia Golf Association and Colwood Golf Club figure that during this three-day tournament would be the ideal time to make the selection.

SEVEN AFTER PLACE
Several local golfers, two of whom have played on cup teams in the past, have been chosen from the various clubs to play seven of the ten holes of medal play, with the winner earning the right to travel East. Bob Morrison, Harold Brynolfson and Ken Lawson, club champions, will represent Uplands.

ARSENAL XI AFTER YOUNG SOCCER STAR

English Club Offers $60,000 For Tommy Walker of Heart of Midlothian

LONDON, April 30 (CP).—Still angling for Tommy Walker, starry Heart of Midlothian footballer, Arsenal is said to be dangling a record bid of $60,000 before the directors of the Edinburgh club in an effort to obtain the nineteen-year-old forward's services for next winter's campaign. A smash between Hearts and Arsenal is reported to have been held out as an additional inducement.

Idol of Scottish fans, Walker is the most sought-after player north of the Tweed, and the Gunners offered $50,000 for him a few months ago. The young inside right is regarded as the biggest soccer discovery for twenty years.

It is thought nothing will be done until Walker returns from Canada and the United States. He is a member of the Scottish Football Association's touring team, and his play will be closely watched in May and June by soccer fans across the Atlantic.

WALTER HAGEN IN TRAINING

Old Master of Links Thinks Veterans Have Chance to Win Open Crown

DETROIT, April 30 (AP).—Walter Hagen, admitting that "youth must be served eventually," isn't willing to do any of the serving just yet, he said optimistically today as he began a training for the United States Open golf championship this June at Oakmont, Pa.

"The Hag," holder of about fifty championship titles, sees a chance for one of the "old guard" to win the open crown because of the trickiness of Oakmont's traps and pin locations.

"It remains to be seen whether the younger stars hit the game today have built their games around one certain course or have developed games good enough for any course," and particularly one as tricky as Oakmont, Hagen said. "I think they have, but the older and more experienced golfer has a chance to win."

Baseball Meeting
A meeting of the Victoria and District Baseball League will be held in the Colobist boardroom, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, at which plans for the organization of a junior loop will be discussed. All clubs or organizations interested in entering youngsters are invited to attend.

Baseball Practice
Eagles, Commercial Baseball League nine, will hold a practice this evening at the Royal Athletic Park at 6 o'clock. All players are requested to attend.

Humans and Horses Vie for Honors

Under the direction of Assistant Coach Frank Schneider, track stars of Loyola University at Los Angeles visited the Kellogg Institute of Animal Husbandry recently, to engage in a unique workout with a few of the world's fastest Arabian horses, in preparation for the coming track season. Photo shows Bob Farr, star hurdler, as he topped the sticks in competition with Kismet, crack Arabian jumper.

Hudson's Bay Will Meet Spencers in Pendray Cup Final

Wednesday Football League Championship at Stake Today at the Royal Athletic Park—Garrison to Battle Maccabees in Curtain Raiser at 2:15 o'clock—Teams Announced

One of the biggest midweek soccer crowds of the season is expected to be on hand at the Royal Athletic Park this afternoon to witness the Pendray Cup final between Spencers, present holders, and the Hudson's Bay. Billed as the feature attraction on the twin football bill, the fixture will get under way at 4 o'clock when J. Carl Pendray, donor of the trophy symbolic of the league championship, will kick off.

Garrison and Maccabees will meet in the curtain raiser at 2:15 o'clock in a replay of their 3-3 draw in the first round of the Reginald & Taylor Cup series.

SPENCERS STRENGTHENED
Strengthened by the return to their line-up of Art Chapman and "Lefty" Williams, given forwards, Spencers were cleverer than any even chance today to retain the silverware. Against this is the fact that in four fixtures this season the Hudson's Bay have defeated the Diamond "B" aggregation twice and dropped out, leaving twelve to count against them.

With rival squads at full strength and the championship of the Wednesday League at stake, football fans who make their way to the enclosure should witness one of the greatest matches of the season. Dea McMillan will handle the Pendray Cup final and Al McKinnon will referee the Garrison-Maccabees fixture.

On May 1 the Victoria and District Wednesday Football League will stage two semi-final fixtures in the Rennie & Taylor Cup series. Spencers will oppose Outer Wharf in the opening match, while the Hudson's Bay will meet the survivor of the Garrison-Maccabees fixture in the second game of the double-header.

Teams for today's matinee fixture: Spencers—Stewart, Wilkison, Miller, Dyer, Evans, Wallace, McMillan, Edwards, Worswick, Clark and S. Bischoff.
Maccabees—Harris, Graves, McLellan, Spiller, Fieldhouse, Chapman, M. McBride, A. McBride, A. Murray, Eastwood, J. Murray, Garro, Roberts, Newell and Embury.
Players are asked to meet at the grounds at 2 o'clock.

MANY OUTSIDERS TO COMPETE HERE FOR PROVINCIAL TITLES

Thirty-Five Boxers and Matmen From Outside Points Will Appear at Armories Friday and Saturday in Annual Championships—Plenty of Action Expected—List Is Released

With fifty-seven entries, thirty-four for boxing and twenty-three for wrestling, already filed, and more expected in the final minute rush, a record entry was yesterday assured for the British Columbia amateur boxing and wrestling championships which will be staged Friday and Saturday of this week at the Armories, Bay Street, under the auspices of the Canadian Scottish Regiment.

With a number of champions on hand to retain their laurels, and a large army of budding glove-throwers and wrestlers knocking at the door of the provincial championships, the tournament promises to be one of the most colorful ever staged in the Capital City. The entry list, a one of high standard and includes entries from many parts of the Province. Victoria is well represented in both the boxing and the wrestling, with the cream of its multi-sporters and matmen ready to make a strong bid for the many provincial crowns.

Mrs. Graves, who is a mother and housekeeper in addition to being a student, leaves her home in Clifton Forge on a C. & O. train shortly after 5 a.m. each day, arriving for her 9 o'clock class barely on time. Returning, she reaches home, 158 miles from the college, at 9 p.m. While traveling she prepares her class assignments, and her "spare" time is taken up caring for her family.

A Champ Chicken Eater—"Buck" Fulford, of 707, Arthur, Texas, who claims to be a world's champion in the art of picking and eating a chicken recently set a record for anybody with nimble fingers and farious appetite to shoot, 45 seconds. Timed by a crowd assembled to witness his prowess, Fulford killed, picked, cooked and ate a chicken in one minute, fifty seconds. Fulford's system is: Hang the chicken by the feet, cut off the head and allow forty seconds for it to die; then allow ten seconds for acidling, five seconds for drying and cutting, thirty seconds to cook in boiling grease, and twenty-five seconds for cooling and eating.

TO GO BY THE BOARD
 "His fortune went by the board" is a phrase recently reported of a once wealthy man who had lost everything. Why this should be indicated through the words "went by the board" is interesting.

Here we have another illustration of the piratical greed of everyday language which searches and helps itself, from all places, peoples and eras, to words with which to dress a thought.

Thus the expression "to go by the board" is the annual meeting here.

Eloise Bousquet de Wagner of the equatorial Galapagos Islands, that irrepressible woman whose loves in the tropical heat have accounted for strange mortal mysteries. This was obtained by the expedition of Captain G. Allan Hancock, petroleum millionaire, taken before she mysteriously disappeared from even her own isolated island "fortress" after two of her former consorts were found dead on the lava-strewn beach of a nearby island of the Galapagos group.Nanaimo Dramatic Academy—"Sing a Song of Songs"

Finns. They are known as the Lapps and Kuanians. There are a few of these people in the northern part of Norway and Sweden, but the most of them are in Russia, near the Arctic Sea. Those people are a branch of the family line of Shem, the oldest son of Noah; so are the Finns and the Estonians.The Scandinavian Peninsula comprises Norway and Sweden and a part of Finland. It does not include any part of Denmark because Denmark is separated from the Scandinavian Peninsula by the Gulfs of Skagerrak and Kattegat and the Baltic Sea. The people in the Shetland and Faroe Islands and Iceland are also descendants from the Scandinavian people. The reason why they do not call a Finn a Scandinavian is because the Finns are not Teutons and that is why they do not include Finland as a Scandinavian country. But they should include it as such because a part of Finland belongs to the Scandinavian Peninsula. The whole of Finland includes the State of Finland, Lapland, Kola and Karelia, Kola and Karelia belong to Russia.
The Free State of Finland includes Finland and the largest area of Lapland.The Scandinavians are Teutons, they are a branch of the Germans, and the Austrians, and the German Swiss, also the Holland Dutch and the Flemings. The Scandinavians have no near relationship with the Sami people. They are not included among the Israelites or the Jews.Now let me ask the British-Israelites where did they get that story from that the Scandinavians claim themselves to be a part of Israel?
Now let me ask them if they can direct me to any knowledge from our school histories or church histories to prove those people are Israelites? But first of all let me ask them if they can show me a word in the Bible to prove that the Scandinavians are in relationship with the Israelites and the Jews then I will believe it, but not before.They must give me proof in regard to that from the Bible and our church histories and school histories from the good old school before I believe those people are the Israelites.Before I finish this letter let me conclude by saying that the Israelites, Jews and Gentiles are all one human family, descendants from the three sons of Noah who were Shem, Ham and Japheth, of Adam's flesh and blood. There is no difference in kind of blood, the one from the other but all are from Adam, the first man, and Eve, who was of Adam's flesh and blood.Of a tribe-bone from Adam's left side the Lord made the first woman, Eve.
Adam was the first man and Eve was the first woman. There were no other kind of people at all.
All people are of Adam—Israelites, Jews and Gentiles.HAROLD HESKIN

MADE UNEQUALSilver and Cross Fox Pelt Inspection Changed Under Recent LegislationChange in the Game Act at the last session, varying fees charged for inspection of fur-farm foles shipped for export, has led to protest by registered fur farmers.Silver fox breeders, who maintain their own association, assert that the new regulations increase the inspection fee on pelts handled by them from 5c to 35c, while in the case of cross-fur the fee has been reduced from 75c to 25c.Association members, who pay registration fees and other levies in respect to their organization, are said to be seeking some adjustmentSummer Values
